

Syrinx von Hees (Ed.)

Inḥiṭāt – The Decline Paradigm:
Its Influence and Persistence in the Writing of Arab Cultural History
(= Arabische Literatur und Rhetorik – Elfhundert bis Achtzehnhundert (ALEA) | 2)

Articles

Syrinx von Hees: Inḥiṭāt – The Decline Paradigm: Its Influence and Persistence in the Writing of Arab Cultural History. Introduction || Manfred Sing: The Decline of Islam and the Rise of Inḥiṭāt: The Discrete Charm of Language Games about Decadence in the 19th and 20th Centuries || Ines Weinrich: The Inḥiṭāt Paradigm in Arab Music History || Marek M. Dziekan: Inḥiṭāt as a Historical Period in Arab Culture: Traditional Views Versus an Attempt at a New Interpretation || Geert Jan van Gelder: Good Times, Bad Times: Opinions on fasād az-zamān, “the Corruption of Time” || Tarif Khalidi: On Progress and Decline in Ibn Khaldūn || Sonja Brentjes: On Four Sciences and Their Audiences in Ayyubid and Mamluk Societies || Syrinx von Hees: Meaning and Function of ‘Ajā’ib in Writing on Mamluk Historiography and in Mamluk Historical Writing Itself || Dana Sajdi: New Voices in History: Nouveau Literacy in the 18th-Century Ottoman Levant

Würzburg, Ergon-Verlag, 1. Auflage 2017
221 S. | 24 x 17 cm | Festeinband
€ 35,00 ISBN 978-3-95650-247-7

BESTELLUNG

Ladenpreis 35,00 € Rezensionsexemplar

Name:

Rezensionsmittel:

Adresse 1:

Adresse 2:

Strasse:

PLZ | Stadt:

Land:

Datum | Unterschrift:

Ergon-Verlag GmbH | Keesburgstraße 11 | 97074 Würzburg | Deutschland
Telefon +49 (0)931 280084 | fax +49 (0)931 282872 | email service@ergon-verlag.de