

Table of Contents

The Preamble: Translator’s Word	9
Author’s Acknowledgements	11
Foreword	15
1. The first school for the deafblind in the capital city of Saint Petersburg	17
1.1. A “Window” to Europe and America	17
1.2. Deafblind Care Society in Russia	21
1.3. Care Home for Deafblind Children on the Fontanka River	23
1.4. Ivan Sokolyanski in Saint Petersburg (initiation into the profession of teaching the deaf and deafblind)	26
1.5. Continuation of Saint Petersburg’s traditions of teaching deafblind children in pre-war Leningrad	31
1.5.1. Sensomotoric development as the first stage of a deafblind child’s education	32
1.5.2. Teaching deafblind children to use and understand oral speech	35
1.6. Avgusta V. Yarmolenko on the Psychological Characteristics of the deafblind during 1938-1961	37
1.6.1. Academic Career	37
1.6.2. Definition and classification of Deafblindness, according to Avgusta V. Yarmolenko	40
1.6.3. Avgusta V. Yarmolenko: Causes of Critical Mental Conditions of Certain Blind Deaf-mutes Prior to Receiving Education	41
1.6.4. Avgusta V. Yarmolenko: On the Peculiarities of Perception among Blind Deaf-Mutes	44
1.6.5. Blind deaf-mutes tactile speech	47

2.	Ivan A. Sokolyanski's school for blind deaf-mutes in Kharkov	53
2.1.	From a deaf children's teacher to the organizer of special education in Ukraine	53
2.2.	Organizing the educational institution for deafblind in Kharkov	59
2.2.1.	Teaching room orientation to deafblind. Ivan A. Sokolyanski's method of direct adjustment.	68
2.2.2.	Developing basic and advanced domestic skills	69
2.2.3.	Teaching the concept of time. Ivan A. Sokolyanski's calendars	70
2.2.4.	Overcoming passivity and stereotypes in behavior. Competitive board games	72
2.2.5.	Preparing to teach reading and writing. Teaching observation.....	73
2.2.6.	Teaching self-observation. Olga Skorohodova's diary	76
2.2.7.	The Demaskation Method.....	76
2.3.	Arrests, the school's destruction and Sokolyanski departure from Kharkov	77
3.	Deafblind Education in Moscow and the Moscow Region	81
3.1.	Moscow period of Ivan A. Sokolyanski's life and work	81
3.1.1.	The significance of organizing the environment for a deafblind child's development.....	88
3.1.2.	Development of a deafblind child's first communication methods.....	89
3.1.3.	Pre-alphabetic period in deafblind education. Gestures and molding	96
3.1.4.	The alphabetic period of a deafblind child's development.....	103
3.1.5.	Post-alphabetic period in deafblind development. The system of parallel texts.....	104
3.1.6.	At the end of Sokolyanski's life.....	111

3.2. Studying and teaching the deafblind at the Institute of Defectology under the direction of Alexander I. Mescheryakov	114
3.2.1. A son of a peasant and a soviet soldier– a pupil of Luriya and Sokolyanski.....	114
3.2.2. The laboratory of studying and teaching blind deaf-mute children under Alexander I. Mescheryakov	119
3.2.3. Establishment and the first decade of the Care Home for the deafblind	123
3.2.4. Organizing group education of deafblind students at MSU	127
3.3. Studying and teaching deafblind children from 1975 to 2000.....	133
Final Word	139
List of References.....	143

